Motivate Employees to Get Help for Relationship Problems and Protect the Bottom Line

Intervene with education and awareness

Giving Couples Counseling a Try

- ✓ Play an appropriate role in helping employees with a difficult problem
- ✓ Educate and inspire employees with couple troubles to get help
- ✓ Motivate employees to seek help earlier
- ✓ Reduce risk of domestic violence
- ✓ Reduce financial burden and other risks to the organization caused by distracted and preoccupied employees.
- ✓ Reduce stigma

Over 50% of marriages in the United States end in divorce. And second marriages have a higher likelihood of failure. Can couples counseling or marriage counseling help your employees with relationship troubles beat the odds when the going gets tough? Couples counseling may help employees improve relationships at home and help employers win back their focus, attention, and productivity. Employees with relationship troubles don't leave their issues at the front door when they come to work. Instead, they arrive with the employee in the form of emotional stress, distraction, and added risk. Education and motivation to seek couples counseling may be all that's needed to help these employees take the next step.

This editable and brandable program (PowerPoint presentation, DVD, video, or self-contained web course) educates employees/supervisors about the content presented. This is a no-fluff program. It is fast moving, practical, and memorable. All formats include a reproducible, editable handout, and test questions to engage learners. Choose any format. # Help Employees Examine Drinking Practices and Dispel Myths and Misconceptions about Alcoholism

Intervene with substance abuse

Thinking About Your Drinking

- ✓ Reduce the financial impact of substance abuse
- ✓ Dispel myths and misconceptions
- ✓ Reduce enabling by coworkers
- ✓ Increase the likelihood of self-referral to help
- ✓ Help employees "self-diagnose"
- ✓ Intervene with denial

Every workplace is vulnerable to the costly effects of substance abuse, so education about alcohol, alcoholism, and alcohol abuse are critical workplace wellness topics. The American Medical Association and World Health Organization declared alcoholism a disease for nearly 50 years, but employees and their family members usually have no clue that they are holding on to myths and misconceptions that serve only to keep the alcoholic ill and growing worse.

This editable and brandable program (PowerPoint presentation, DVD, video, or self-contained web course) educates employees/supervisors about the content presented. This is a no-fluff program. It is fast moving, practical, and memorable. All formats include a reproducible, editable handout, and test questions to engage learners. Choose any format. # Intervene with Depression and Help Prevent Workplace Presenteeism

for feeling good again

Understanding and Treating Depression

- ✓ Educate employees to self-diagnose
- ✓ Encourage employees to seek help
- ✓ Reduce absenteeism
- ✓ Reduce risk of suicide
- ✓ Offer effective coping techniques
- ✓ Educate family members to spot symptoms
- ✓ Help prevent loss to the bottom line

Depression is a common mental illness that affects nearly 10 percent of employees. It is a treatable, medical condition — not a personal weakness. Unfortunately, employees tend to explain away depression or blame it on other things, when in fact it is treatable disease of the brain. Every employee at one point or another will experience sadness or the “blues”, but major depression is a serious medical condition requiring professional diagnosis and treatment. Employees can stay depressed for years, acquire dysfunctional ways of coping with it, and place the employer at risk for losses to productivity, higher absenteeism, and higher costs to health care from medical problems associated with major depression.

Maximize the Impact of the EAP By Letting Employees Know All that It Can Do

The EAP can help in many ways.

25 Ways the EAP Can Help

- ✓ Increase employee awareness of the EAP
- ✓ Prompt referrals with examples of problems the EAP can help resolve
- ✓ Better explain what the EAP can do
- ✓ Reduce risk to your organization
- ✓ Increase EAP utilization by identifying more employee issues
- ✓ Help employees reach the right form of help the first time

Employee assistance programs can help employees with almost any personal problem or concern, whether or not it affects their job. However, there are many issues and concerns that employees may not consider for EAP assistance. These employees risk seeking help from community resources that won't solve their problems or will make their problems worse. Prevention requires educating employees about the EAP's capabilities. And this is crucial to your EAP's utilization.

Educate Employees to Stay Away from Spice/K2--It Destroys Lives

Spice/K2 can kill

What You Should Know about Spice/K2

- ✓ Convince employees of the harm caused by Spice/K2
- ✓ Help employees avoid even just one use
- ✓ Educate employees so they warn peers to stay away
- ✓ Help employees realize Spice/K2 can lead to violence, even suicide
- ✓ Protect at-risk organizations where employees are at high-risk for using Spice/K2

However, it is not pot or marijuana at all. Its active ingredient is not THC, which is the active ingredient in marijuana. Proper research does not exist about chemicals that are used in spice. Hence, we are not fully aware of the damage caused Spice/K2, but we know it will kill, destroy lives, destroy families, and take it's user down like a bowling pin. With this program or course, your employees will be fully armed to reject spice, avoid it like the plague, and carry the message to peers that Spice/K2 is addictive, ruinous, and any benefits are a big lie.

Help Prevent Prescription Drug Abuse Through Employee Awareness and Education

What You Should Know about Prescription Drug Abuse

- ✓ Educate employees about prescription drug abuse—scope of problem, definition, risk, impact, who's at risk, prevention, and treatment
- ✓ Reduce risk to the organization
- ✓ Encouraging self-diagnosis and seeking help
- ✓ Reduce risk of accidental death among abusers
- ✓ Help employees determine whether treatment is necessary for themselves or a loved one

Prescription drug abuse is nearly epidemic. Overdose deaths are up 400% since 1999 according to the U.S. Centers for Disease Control. One contributing cause is abusers not thinking of prescription medication as addictive or dangerous as street drugs. It can take time for them to determine they need help. Some symptoms of prescription drug abuse mimic other problems, like depression, which may leave the abuser's physician and loved ones in the dark about their misuse. By helping employees learn more about prescription drug abuse, employers can play a role in prevention, help families, and protect the bottom line from a vast array of direct and indirect costs.

Reduce the Risk of Workplace Violence with Better Trained Supervisors

Supervisors are the key to a safe work environment.

Supervisor's Role in Preventing Workplace Violence

- ✓ About the supervisor's role in prevention
- ✓ Modeling appropriate workplace behavior
- ✓ Creating a work culture of respect, accountability, and clear communication
- ✓ Honing supervisory skills to promoting fairness
- ✓ Mastering conflict resolution skills
- ✓ Threat management—behavioral signs and symptoms
- ✓ Having a plan

Violence is much less likely to occur in a workplace with a healthy work environment because employees don't have an axe to grind. This simple fact has tremendous implications for the supervisor in prevention. While most workplace violence prevention education focuses on employee behavior, this program goes further to examine supervisor role modeling, workplace fairness, clear communication, conflict management, accountability, early intervention, leadership skills, threat management, and having a plan in case taking action is ever needed

This editable and brandable program (PowerPoint presentation, DVD, video, or self-contained web course) educates employees/supervisors about the content presented. This is a no-fluff program. # Improve Productivity and Employee Harmony with More Assertive Supervisors

Unassertive supervisors increase risk to the organization

Assertiveness for Supervisors: Improving Relationships with Employees

- ✓ Improve a supervisor's ability to be assertive
- ✓ Help supervisors find the balance between being "pushy" and a "push-over."
- ✓ Advance personal and organizational goals on time
- ✓ Improve teamwork, trust, respect, and relationships with supervisees
- ✓ Avoid aggression in supervision or being a "people pleaser"
- ✓ Improving accountability of employees

Both employees and the organization depend on supervisors to deliver honest input, advance their goals, protect their interests, and develop a positive work culture that encourages trust and cooperation. To accomplish this, the supervisor must be a skillful communicator. Often the most difficult part of this communication is being assertive. Assertive supervisors know how to get things done without alienating others or creating drama. They motivate others to reach their full potential. It is an art and a skill that comes with practice. The bottom line: Being assertive is good for everyone, and this is why assertive supervisors are trusted and respected.

Meet the U.S. Department of Transportation's Requirement for the two-hour Drug and Alcohol Training of Supervisors.

U.S. DOT Reasonable Suspicion Training for Supervisors

WorkExcel.com

We produced this training package for Norfolk Southern Railroad Corporation and now it is used by EAPs and employers nationwide to meet the U.S. DOT mandate for one hour of education for supervisors in alcohol awareness and one hour of drug abuse awareness, including signs and symptoms of use, effects on behavior, and hazards of use. But we've gone further!

We include information about Spice/K2, education about four distinct opioids recommended by the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services for inclusion in all drug and alcohol awareness training courses, and a unique section on alcoholism that dispels myths and misconceptions to help learners overcome denial, stop enabling, and understand the disease of alcoholism.

"This reasonable suspicion training program for supervisors was easy for me to modify to meet my needs today - exactly what I was looking for. I needed to develop a course quickly, but I didn't want to kill myself doing it. The contents was well developed and broad enough that I could adjust the run time by dropping a few slides rather than having to add slides to make it longer. Thanks!"

Cliff McPherson,
Panhandle Energy, Houston, TX

Compassion fatigue is a reality for caregivers ("carers") and professionals working with victims of trauma, or anyone experiencing pain, illness, or suffering. Overcoming compassion fatigue centers about self-care, through a combination of recovery and rejuvenation. Though it is important to overcome and recover from compassion fatigue, it is equally important to prevent it from recurring, or from manifesting in the first place. This program makes a powerful impression and offers all the right strategies to help employees avoid compassion fatigue, and understand the importance of self-care in managing personal wellness. Employees are inspired to develop a holistic, comprehensive self-care plan that will promote well-being in all areas of their lives at work and home.
